

Shayra Antia

COFOUNDER & COO, PRIVACYPAL · SOUTH FLORIDA

She is the cofounder who ships the product, runs the deployments, and hosts the rooms where the buyers are. Not a commentator on AI governance, a practitioner of it, with a live production system and customers behind every sentence.

The blocker is never the model. It is that nobody will sign their name to what the model can see.

AUTHORITY

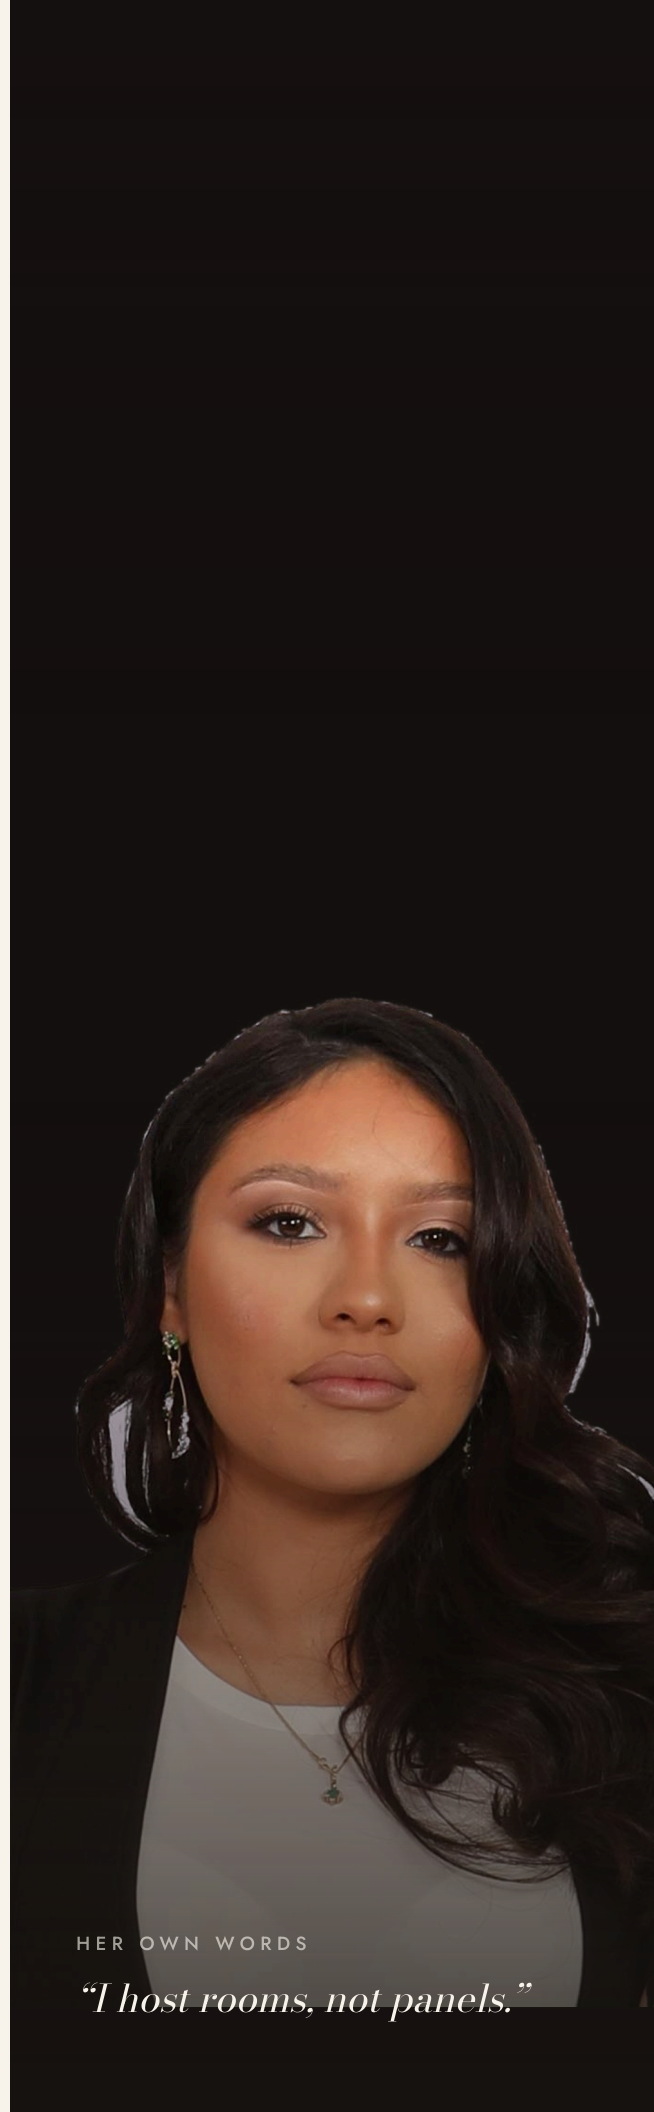

Cofounder and COO of PrivacyPal, the on-device governance and enablement layer for AI. She runs operations, delivery and go-to-market, and she can explain the mechanism without a deck.

ACCESS

She hosts executive roundtables for business owners and security leaders across Miami, Palm Beach and Palo Alto. When she convenes a room, decision-makers are in it.

AUDIENCE

A discovery-led channel reaching business owners and operators directly, plus the stages and communities where the same people already gather.

HER OWN WORDS

"I host rooms, not panels."

What a partnership looks like

01 / EDITORIAL

She writes or speaks

A framework, published. Named, numbered and usable by a stranger the next morning.

03 / THE ROOM

She convenes it

An executive roundtable for your buyers, hosted and programmed by her rather than sponsored by you.

SUBJECTS SHE CARRIES

What the EU AI Act actually asks of you, in plain English

How a twenty-person firm gets from a no-AI memo to firm-wide adoption

Signals, never transcripts: designing for the family, not against it

02 / ECOSYSTEM

A joint customer story

PrivacyPal as a listed partner, with production deployments and customers who will go on the record.

04 / COUNSEL

She advises

The trust question inside your product, answered by someone who solves it for a living.
